

Overview

Al Ain University, established in 2005, considered as one of the new and rapidly growing higher educational institutions licensed by the Ministry of Education. The University has two campuses; one is located in Abu Dhabi, and the other one in Al Ain.

AAU offers 17 undergraduate programs, 8 Master's programs and 1 professional diploma through the colleges of Engineering, Pharmacy, Law, Education, Humanities and Social Sciences Business and Communication and Media.

AAU continues to successfully seek international accreditation of its programs by respected educational bodies, such as; The US-based Accreditation Board for Engineering and Technology (ABET), the Accreditation Council of Pharmacy Education (ACPE) in the US, and the Supreme Council for Evaluation, Research and Higher Education (HCERES) in France. In addition to the German International Accreditation (AQAS).